

Words of encouragement from Mr Alkazi

Dear Mr. Mishra,

Thank you for your recent visit to our set-up at Okhla.

I wish to congratulate you on your present venture, which is seething with brilliant ideas.

What I found particularly inspiring was your scheme to identify various experts in different fields of conservation, including architectural restoration, water conservation, Natural heritage, Health and Education Programmes, rural awareness etc.

Your other brilliant ideas cover Heritage Trusts, associations and groups in different countries across the world and preparation of a compendium of such bodies to promote interaction between the Trust, and study as to how financial aid can be obtained to enhance knowledge in the fields of Rural Development and Conservation to the mutual benefits of institutions and societies world wide, assist in the exchange of experts in the fields of conservation; explore methods and techniques based on National and International Experience and Practice. This will help nurture a new awareness of the human condition worldwide.

May the Blessings of Almighty God bring you perpetual Bliss and Peace of Mind.

With warm regards,
I remain,
yours sincerely,
E. Alkazi
